

SATURDAY IN PATHOLOGY AT THE UNIVERSITY

May 27, 2017

A CME Event for
Practising Pathologists, Fellows & Residents

Topic:

Challenges in Dermatopathology for the Community Pathologist

Sunnybrook Health Sciences Centre
Odette Cancer Centre, RDT Jenkin, TB21
2075 Bayview Avenue, Toronto, Ontario

Sponsored by the Department of
Laboratory Medicine
& Pathobiology

Program Description

This seminar will be interactive with adequate time for discussion, comments, following speaker's presentation of the morphological features of each case. The interactive component will comprise at least 25% of the sessions.

Clickers are being utilized as a form of interactive discussion and testing.

Target Audience

- Anatomical and General Pathologists
- Postgraduate Residents and Fellows

Learning Objectives

This case-based approach to pathology will go beyond looking at the basic features of the commonly seen entities and delve into the clinical and practical relevance of our diagnoses.

At the end of this session, participants will:

- develop an approach to the diagnosis and reporting of challenging melanocytic and non-melanocytic skin lesions
- identify common pitfalls in the diagnosis and reporting of selected intraoperative consultation cases
- understand the new AJCC and WHO classification of GI neuroendocrine tumors

Accreditation

Continuing Professional Development (CPD), Faculty of Medicine, University of Toronto, is fully accredited by the Committee on Accreditation of Continuing Medical Education (CACME), a subcommittee of the Committee on Accreditation of Canadian Medical Schools (CACMS). This standard allows CPD to assign credits for educational activities based on the criteria established by The College of Family Physicians of Canada, and the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada.

As a result of a reciprocal agreement between the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada, The American Medical Association, and The European Union for Medical Specialists, CPD is permitted to assign respective credits.
